- Application does not guarantee acceptance.
- Vendors must apply each year. Acceptance in 2016 or 2017 does not guarantee acceptance in future years

Selection Process

Folkmoot features juried, handmade creations of artists and craftspeople as well as International handicrafts. In order to ensure quality and integrity of the marketplace, a committee selects vendors based on a set of criteria that includes: quality (including booth and presentation), craftsmanship, uniqueness, authenticity and fit for festival audiences. The committee reviews all applications and selects vendors who best meet these criteria.

We are especially looking for vendors who offer unique international food and merchandise and who can showcase decorative booth displays including flags and international themes.

We are also seeking entertainment that reflects the international influence through dance, music, and strolling performers.

- Both events strive to present a well-rounded Marketplace, therefore we limit multiple vendors showcasing similar items.

- Nonprofits are welcome to participate. An application fee is required. If providing programming there is no vendor fee. A non-profit fundraising booth is $50 or a percentage of monies collected.
- Folkmoot reserves the right to deny any application without explanation.
